

Exam procedure

- Will be online on OLAT: probably the envisaged day and time, but I will confirm as soon as I know
- Honour code of the university
- You will get the opportunity to do a test-run (app. 1 week before, centrally administered)
- You will get the opportunity to voice concerns about technical aspects (central uni admin, not myself)
- While the actual exam: Support over the phone (central uni admin)

What will be on the exam?

- All contents of the course - in particular the lectures
- No R code!

What will be on the exam?

- All contents of the course - in particular the lectures
- No R code!
- Randomised question order for everyone
- No possibility to go back once a question is answered
- You will know beforehand how many questions in how much time you have to answer.
- Mostly short answers, multiple choice - no long essay questions
- I strongly advice you to study for this as you would for a regular exam. You will not have time to look up answers!

e.g. interpret graphs (check practicals for interpretation) original: 45 minutes (maybe will be shorter) points for right questions, no malus system...

Honour code of the faculty of arts and social sciences

Make sure you read and understand the honour code before the exam

“If you submit the assessment, the Faculty assumes without exception that you are aware of and accept the content and measures of this Code of Honour as well as the consequences of any violation.”
